4-H Members Participate In Area Contest

On Saturday, May 20, Appomattox 4-H members participated in an Area Junior 4-H Contest at Brookville High School in Lynchburg. This area contest included 4-H members from Halifax, Bedford, Amherst, Campbell, Nelson, Albemarle, Greene and Appomattox Counties. The contest was open to those 4-H members ages 9-13 who had been winners in county programs.

Representing Appomattox were : Cindy Roach (picture one), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aulden Roach of Pamplin, received a red ribbon in Girls Public Speaking for her speech entitled "Walt Disney".

Lisa Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Moore of Rt. 3 Appomattox, who received a red ribbon for her illustrated talk in Room Improvement.

Robert Dyess (picture 2), son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dyess of Rt. 4, Appomattox, who received a red ribbon for his illustrated talk in Livestock entitled "How To Ear Notch Pigs".

Gail Moore (picture 3,) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Moore of Rt. 2, Concord, who was awarded a red ribbon for her Baton Act in the Talent Division or Share-the -Fun. In addition to these 4-H members who participated in the contest, several Senior 4-H members from Appomattox assisted with the program as contest chairmen or judges. These included: Jane Hix, Billie Brightwell, Brenda Ferguson, Hope Paulette, Janet Hix, Hal Smith and Al Johnson.

Several adults from Appomattox served as judges for the contest: Mrs. Dixie Staten, Mrs. Mary Charles McNeil, Mrs. Warren Taylor and Mr. Travis Poole.

Congratulations to each of those who participated in the contest, and a sincere appreciation to those teens and adults who helped with the program.

Seek Donations For Joel Sweeney Marker

The Appomattox County Chamber of Commerce is seeking private donations to pay the cost of a metal highway marker to the memory of Joel Sweeney, famed banjo player and minstrel performer of the early 1800's.

Joel Sweeney's burial place is located a short distance from Route 24 , about four miles east of Appomattox and near the Appomattox River.

The cost of the marker is $250 with costs of installing the highway marker and maintenance to be underwritten by the Va. Dept. of Highways.

Businessmen and women, professional men and women and other individuals are being asked for donations so that this marker can be made and installed. The Chamber of Commerce feels that placement of the marker is an important step in tourism promotion and also important to the preservation of history of Appomattox county. Checks made be sent to the Chamber of Commerce, treasurer, T. DeWitt Evans.

AWARDS BANQUET SET FOR MAY 31

The Appomattox County Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold an annual Awards Banquet on Wednesday, May 31 at 6:30 p.m. at the Parkway Restaurant.

Honored guests will be Varsity basketball players of Appomattox County High School and their coaches. Guest speaker will be Charles Moir, head basketball coach, Roanoke College.

Scout Clean-Up

The Scout "Clean-Up Day" which was scheduled for Sat., May 20, has been postponed to Sat., May 27, due to rain.

The Girl Scout troops of Appomattox will be cleaning the area directly across from Mosses Motor Co. on Confederate Boulevard. The Boy Scouts will be beautifying the area owned by the Ferguson estate across from the Appomattox Court House.

All of the Boy and Girl Scouts and the Scout leaders of Appomattox hope that every citizen of Appomattox will become aware of saving our natural resources and keeping America beautiful through this project.

SUPPORT YOUR SCOUTS.

Girl Scout Fund Drive May 22-27

Friday, May 19 was kick-off night for a Girl Scout Fund Drive for $500 to support the Girl Scout program in Appomattox County and the Virginia Skyline Council. The drive will be held from Monday, May 22 to Saturday, May 27.

Campaign co-chairmen are the Honorable Watkins M. Abbitt, 4th District representative U. S. Congress and the mayor of Appomattox, the Honorable H. B. Pack.

Captains for the drive are Bill McGrath, Mrs. Margaret Shields and Mrs. Frances Avery.

Appomattox Girl Scouts are members of the Virginia Skyline Girl Scout Council. The Skyline Council serves 17,000 girls and 3,400 adults -- 20,400 members.

Appomattox County supports seven troops: two Brownie Troops (ages 7, 8); three Junior Troops (ages 9, 10 , 11); one Cadette Troop (ages 12, 13, 14); and one Senior Troop (ages 15, 16, 17) involving 124 girls and 36 adults -- a total of 160 registered members.

Why do Girl Scouts need money? The Va. Skyline Girl Scout Council must have money to train leaders; to hire administrative and clerical staff; to provide professional help and guidance through your local Field Director; for postage and to keep camps operating and well supplied with materials and equipment for the girls.

2,651 Homes Have TV

The 1971 Census of Housing counted 3,303 housing units in Appomattox County, and 2,651 households had at least one television set (760 UHF-equipped) the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, announced today. The figures are from the first report for Virginia which presents detailed statistics on housing for each county.

The report shows that in the county:

There were 664 housing units with air conditioning (526 with room units and 138 with a central system), 2,271 units with a clothes washing machine, 416 with a clothes dryer, and 181 with a dishwasher.

The 1970 population was 9,784 , with an average of 3.4 persons per housing unit.

A total of 1,827 housing unit were built before 1949, 560 during the 1950's, 372 during 1960-64, and 534 within the five years preceding the April 1970 census.

Utility gas was used to cook the meals in 99 households, electricity in another 1,933 and bottled, tank, or LP gas in yet another 381.

There were 2,503 housing units with complete kitchen facilities and 2,137 with complete bathrooms, both for the exclusive use of the households. The number of bedrooms in all housing units ranged from none (in 50 units) and one (in 307units) to four or more (in 433 units.)

Owners occupied 2,161 units, renters 749 unit, and a total of 383 units were vacant year round with 14 for sale and 52 for rent.

Copies of the report, Detailed Characteristics, 1970 Census of Housing, Virginia , HC (1)-B48 are available for $2.-75 each from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, or from U.S. Department of Commerce field offices located in major cities.

Broom Sale Is Bigger Than '71

Lion V. O. Mims and the other Lions of the Appomattox Club sold 51 dozen brooms in May with a net profit of $470.88 up $152.60 from $318.28 from last year.

'Flying Eagle' Visits Park

Mr. and Mrs. David Tahamont, of Paulsboro, New Jersey, and their daughters Carol and Elise were Wednesday morning visitors (May 17) to Appomattox Court House National Historical Park. Mr. Tahamont ("Flying Eagle") is a Seneca Indian, great-great neghew of General Ely Parker, an aide of General U.S. Grant at the time of the surrender scene in the Visitors' Center. Mr. Tahamont is a 30-year Navy veteran, now retired and employed with Atlantic City Electric, New Jersey. Mrs. Tahamont is Welfare Director in Paulsboro and a piano instructor, as well. Their three sons, Craig, David and Bruce were all in college or technical schools this year and part of the reason for their trip south was to attend Bruce's graduation ceremonies at Pfeiffer College, Misenheimer, N. C.

County Men Named To Bd. Directors

The Piedmont Pork Producers Association met at Cedarbrook Restaurant, Farmville on Monday evening and became an official organization.

A board of directors was elected including two members from each of the eight counties making up the association. Elected from Appomattox county were John Wilson and Earl Pickett.

Officers elected include Henry Wood, Buckingham, pres.; Franklin Dodd, Charlotte county, vice pres.; Vernon Easter, Cumberland, secretary; Bobby Bryan, Cumberland, treas.

Seventy-three members joined the association Monday. It is primarily an organization of pork producers and others working to publicize the use of pork products, according to board member, Earl Pickett, Pamplin.

The eight counties involved in the new organization include Appomattox, Amelia, Buckingham, Charlotte, Cumberland, Fluvanna, Lunenburg and Prince Edward counties.

Lions To Hear Exchange Student

A presentation by Mrs. Laura Swartz Roach, International Exchange student to Napal, is one of several features on the agenda of the regular meeting of Appomattox lions at the Parkway Restaurant on Thursday, May 25. One - hundred percent attendance pins will be awarded to more than forty members. Meeting time: 6:45 p.m.

Offer First Aid Course

A first aid course for construction workers and other persons engaged in hazardous occupations will be offered in Appomattox if as many as six persons request the course.

It is a multi-media first aid course, recommended by the Commonwealth of Virginia. Instructor Bill Sperry is qualified as an American National Red Cross first aid instructor.

Sperry explains that motion pictures and equipment for the course will have to be reserved several weeks in advance of the course. Interested companies and persons should get in touch with the Rescue Squad president, Ray Noble for further information, during the day and with Bill Sperry after 5 p.m.

The course is planned for a two-session, four hour course with a total of eight hours instruction and practice of skills.

4-H Show

The public, parents and friends are invited to attend the second annual 4-H Dog Show. The event is to be held at the new Plaza Shopping Center at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, May 28th.

Last year the attendance was far beyond our expectations so come one come all and watch our younsters perform under the watchful eye of professional judges

Pictured above is the Lawson Ford Motor Company's Manager, Mr. Dick Bland and the trop[illegible] ...ward- ed to some lucky 4-H members. Ribbons will also be awarded to fifth place exhibitors.

Lawson Ford is underwriting the expenses of this special event. So our big thanks to them for another year.

Smith Wins State Honors

Extension agent J. A. Smith, Appomattox has won four awards in the Public Information competition sponsored by Amchem Products, Inc. in cooperation with the National Association of County Agricultural Agents and the Virginia Association of Extension Agents.

There were six classes in the contest, with district winners from agents in the state's extension district vying for state honors.

Mr. Smith won the "Best of Show" award for his feature story on the growing and pruning of fruit trees, published March 23 in the TIMES-VIRGINIA. He is an East Central district winner in the category of colored slides because of his series of slices on ecology, a series that includes many Appomattox county scenes.

He is a state winner in two categories. His personal column, "South 40" published each week in the TIMES-VIRGINIAN won top honors and he is state winner also in the "Feature Story" category, the above mentioned fruit tree feature, which was judged "Best in Show."

Mr. Smith is a graduate of Clemson University, Clemson, S.C. and has been extension agent in Appomattox since 1955, following military service and several years as extension agent in Halifax county. He is married to the former Nellwyn O'Brien and the Smiths have two sons.

Announcement of the awards was made Wednesday night, May 24, at VPI-SU, Blacksburg, Va.

Douglas M. Marshall

Professor Named Assistant Dean

Douglas M. Marshall, associate professor of mechanical engineering at the Rochester Institute of Technology, Rochester, New York, has been named assistant dean of the Institute's College of Engineering.

Marshall will be responsible for co-ordinating the College's academic student advisement program, coordinating and scheduling of student registration activities, the development of freshmen programs to acquaint them better with the purposes and curriculum of the college, and the coordination of the College's visitation program with two-year junior and community colleges from which graduates transfer to RIT.

A native of Charleston, West Virginia, Marshall joined the RIT College of Engineering faculty in 1956.

His professional memberships include the Society for Experimental Stress Analysis, American Society of Engineering Education, the Rochester Engineering Society and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Marshall of Appomattox.

Ninth Grade Orientation

Friday, May 26 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. will be "Orientation Day" for ninth graders who will be entering Appomattox County High School next school term.

Under the sponsorship of the Guidance Department of the high school all current ninth graders will be shown a program of slides depicting classes and extra-curricular activities at the high school. There will also be a tour of the school and teacher personnel will be on hand to explain various courses offered, club activities available and other information of interest to the rising sophomores.

Students from both public and private schools who will be entering Appomattox County High School are invited to attend. The high school includes sophomore through senior grades.

PENN STATE PROFESSOR TO SPEAK

High School teachers, other educators, historians and other persons interested in Civil War history are invited to sign up for the Appomattox Civil War Institute to be held in Appomattox from June 30 to August 18, 1972.

The Institute, co-ordinated through Virginia Tech's Extension Division, will be the first on-site Civil War seminar to be conducted for graduate school credits.

James L. Robertson, Jr. chairman of Tech's department of history and executive director of the U.S. Civil War Centennial Commission, 1961-65, will direct the study.

Among the guest lecturers will be Dr. Warren Hastler, Penn State University. The curriculum for the three-week course will consist of classroom sessions, intensive readings, Department of the Interior slides and movies, guest lecures by recognized authorities on the war, and bus trips to prominent Virginia battlefield sites, with National Park Service personnel supplying guided tours and informative material at each site.

Motion picutres shown to the students will also be available to the public to see at no charge according to J. A. Smith, extension agent, Appomattox, and there will be other parts of the seminar open to the public in a general sharing of information about the Civil War.

The "Techgram", publication of Virginia Institute of Technology and State University, includes information about the course in its latest issue.

The institute is an outgrowth of careful and painstaking planning by Tech Extension personnel in Appomattox County working closely with members of the National Park Service and the Superintendents office of the Appomattox county schools. Classroom facilities at Appomattox Intermediate School along with school buses for local transportation are being provided for the county school system.

Teachers or others interested in taking the course should write immediately to Edward G. Stimpson, Jr. Program Associate, Donaldson Brown Center for Continuing Education, Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, Va. 24061 or to J. A. Smith, VPI Extension Office, Appomattox, Va. 24522.

UDC & Legion To Dedicate Monument

A dedication of a monument at the Confederate cemetery, Appomattox Court House National Historical Park, will be held Sunday, May 28 at 3 p.m. by the Appomattox Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy and Post 104, American Legion, Appomattox.

Featured speaker will be the Honorable Watkins M. Abbitt, 4th District Congressional representative.

A plaque on the speaker's stand at the cemetery will be dedicated in honor of the UDC chpater president, Mrs. A. J. Zastrow with Calvin H. Robinson, writer-historian, making the dedicatory remarks.

A slaute will be given by the 23rd Va. Infantry in Confederate dress. Jeff Briggs, 3rd Vice president, Children of the Confederacy, Hanging Rock Rangers, Va. Division, Roanoke will be among the state officers present.

The public is invited.
